

JOIN US FOR A FAMILY-FRIENDLY STARTUP CONFERENCE FOR KIDS

FOR AGES 7-17; A PARENT/GUARDIAN MUST BE PRESENT.

2:30 PM, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 2025
COMPUTER HISTORY MUSEUM, MOUNTAIN VIEW, CA

brought to you by

AlligatorZone®

where kids meet cool startups

Pictured above: Andrew Sutherland, Founder and CTO, Quizlet,

Since June 2014, at AlligatorZone, founders of over 150 startups have showcased their work to school age kids in 20 cities from Mountain View, CA to Miami, FL. Run in collaboration with cities, public libraries, school districts, the PTA and non-profits, AlligatorZone events offer uniquely uplifting shared-experiences between a parent and a child in inspiring settings, giving kids a peek into the future. Learn about the program's many benefits at <https://alligatorzone.org/why-attend>.

Featured startups and presenters

Ajith Govind
CEO & Co-Founder,
Cactus

Mr. Ajith Govind and Mr. Avinash Joshi will be presenting Cactus, the AI company that helps small businesses run on autopilot.

Avinash Joshi
CTO & Co-Founder,
Cactus

Sai Nelaturi, Ph.D.,
CEO & Co-Founder,
C-Infinity

Dr. Nelaturi will present C-Infinity, an AI company that has created AutoAssembler to help factories see how well different parts come together to make their finished product before building it.

Sampriti Bhattacharyya, Ph.D.,
Founder CEO, Navier

Dr. Bhattacharyya will be presenting her company, Navier, which is building the boat of the future. Navier uses advanced technology and design to build fast, smooth electric hydrofoiling boats that feel like one's flying on water.

Event co-sponsor
Pikmykid
The school safety and dismissal platform

To register, scan QR code or visit alligatorzone.org/events